DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' response dated 09/25/2006 has been received and entered. Claims 1-10 are remain pending in the application.

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-10 stand rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 3, 6 and 9 of U.S. Patent No. 6,339,458.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both application and the patent disclose a surface light source device having at least two different zones with two different roughness degrees.

It should be noted that claims 3, 6 and 9 should be included all limitation of the based claims (e.g., claims 1-2, 4-5 and 7-8) which discloses the surface light source device having at least two different zones with two different roughness degrees to form two different regions (e.g., first and second emission promotion regions) as the claimed invention.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 09/25/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to Applicants' argument about the two way obviousness test, Applicants are noted that “Two-Way” test for obviousness-type double patenting can only apply when applicant could not avoid separate filings, and then only if Patent and Trademark Office controlled rates of prosecution to cause later- filed species claims to issue before claims for genus in earlier application” (emphasis added). Therefore, in this case, the “two way” test could not be applied.

In addition, Applicants contend that Ohkawa ‘458 recite “the covering density of the emission promotion regions ... decrease according to the distance from the incidence face” while the claimed invention refers to a rough area formed on and around the light scattering elements. The Examiner respectfully disagrees with Applicant’s viewpoint since the density as claimed in the Ohkawa ‘458 is a result from a roughness degree from the rough area rather than density of the material forming the rough area (see also the present application, page 9, lines 16-20). In other words, although Ohkawa ‘458 does not directly recite the roughness degree, it would be related to each other, i.e., density of light would be depended on roughness degree of the rough area. Accordingly, the claimed invention would have been at least obvious in view of Ohkawa ‘458.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Dung Nguyen whose telephone number is 571-272-2297. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday-Friday.
